Agenda Item No.1

Syllabus for 2021 – 2022 for I UG & I PG and Course structure for 2021-2024 for UG and 2021 – 2023 for PG

The course structure for UG and PG and Syllabus for I UG and I PG were presented.

The Board members had thoroughly gone through the course structure for both UG and PG as well the content of all the courses offered in first and second semesters of UG and PG in detail and offered their valuable suggestions. The board members appreciated the course structure for UG and PG and resolved the following:

UG Economics:

The board suggested that the papers for Allied I and II that is Health Economics I and II should be replaced by Statistics I and Statistics II in First and Second Semester for I UG

The board suggested that in Semester III Allied III - Mathematical Methods should be changed as Mathematical Methods – I and Allied IV – Statistics for Economists should be replaced by Mathematical Methods II in Fourth Semester.

The board recommended to introduce, if possible, online courses through MOOC's for NME I and NME II in Third and Fourth Semesters.

As the board recommended introducing the courses which is similar to the area of specialization of the faculty members or courses related to Ph. D theses, in Semester V Core Elective- Rural Economics could be replaced by Economics of waste management.

The board recommended that the self- study paper in Semester V should be a compulsory online course. The word Self Study can be removed.

The board suggested to remove Core XIV – Social Economics in Semester VI, and suggested that it could be replaced by Shipping Economics.

The board suggested making the subject project compulsory for the final year students in Semester VI as they need to develop their technical and analytical skills.

The board had the opinion that no optional paper should be given for subject project and the optional paper can be removed from the course structure.

The board members suggested that if an optional paper should be given instead of group project, the paper on Economics of Entrepreneurship could be replaced by Industrial Economics with internship.

The board suggested involving “e-paatshaala” mode for online courses.

The board members thoroughly went through the contents of all the courses offered in First and Second Semesters of both UG and PG.

Regarding the Syllabi discussion for both UG and PG certain topics were suggested to be included and some topics were asked to be removed from some units.

The board recommended including Prof. J. M. Keynes concepts in the First Semester, Skill Based Enhancement Course - Professional English for Economics - I, in Unit One.

The board members appreciated the course content for Professional English for Economics I and II for First Year students.

PG Economics:

The board suggested splitting the course Core III-Statistics for Economists as two papers and incorporating Statistics for Economists I as Core III in Semester I.

The board suggested replacing Core VIII-Economics of Tourism with Statistics for Economists II in Semester II.

The board suggested replacing Core Elective I-Economics for Competitive Exam with Fiscal Economics in Semester II.

As the board recommended introducing the courses which is similar to the area of specialization of the faculty members or courses related to Ph. D theses, in Semester IV Core-Indian Economy was replaced by Environmental Economics as Core XVII; whereas the Core-Indian Economy was shifted to Semester III as Core XII.

The board recommended that since Growth and Development is already incorporated in the under graduation, it should be replaced by History of Economic Thought as Core XI in Semester III.

The board recommended that the Core XV Marketing Management in Semester III should be replaced by Public Finance as Core XV.

The board suggested introducing Women Entrepreneurship as a self-study course in Semester III.

The board recommended interchanging the courses of Financial Institutions and Market as Core XVIII and Digital Economy as Core XIX.

The board member recommended that the individual Project credit can be 6 or 8 but in that case, field visit work should be included.

Agenda Item no:2

Ability Enhancement Courses – Women's Synergy and Yoga & Meditation will be conducted in the regular working hours.

Discussions and Resolutions:

The board members accepted that Ability Enhancement Courses – Women's Synergy and Yoga & Meditation can be conducted in regular working hours.

Agenda Item no:3

There is no certificate course for II Year UG as they have to attend Extension activities (CDP)

Discussions and Resolutions:

The Board accepted that there is no certificate course for II year UG, as they have to attend Extension activities. They resolved that in III year Certificate Course, a paper related to Shipping and Logistics (Shipping Documentation) should be introduced after framing a proper syllabus (that would include field trips, internships and practical classes for the students) and getting consent from the Industrialist members.

Agenda Item no:4

Change in CIA evaluation and Question Paper Pattern – Average of the best two tests out of three will be taken.

Discussions and Resolutions:

The board discussed and accepted that average of best two CIA tests will be taken for internal evaluation and suggested that in components of CIA evaluation there should be proper measurement criteria for judging the students in case of component 4 – Class performance. They suggested that it would be difficult to judge students on basis of attentiveness, participation and completeness of work. So instead of these criteria's in component 4, class performances can be replaced with seminar and seminar can be allotted 5 Marks.
